

LATEST BY THE TELEGRAPH.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

(Telegraphed for the Richmond Enquirer, Monday, May 13, 1850.)

SENATE.—There was an immense gathering of spectators to-day in the lobby and ante-rooms. After the transaction of the usual morning business, Mr. Foote's motion to adjourn the Senate was rejected.

The bill reported by the select committee of thirteen was then up.

Mr. Clay addressed the Senate in exposition of the motives which governed the committee in reporting this bill, which was but an amplification of the report made in that chamber that month.

He said he was not disengaged by the signs of opposition which had been made in the Senate, that the people were in measure to pass the Senate, and that the people would gladly support it.

He did not object to the adoption of the bill, and particularly favored Mr. Benton's parliamentary law.

After Mr. Clay had concluded, the Senate adjourned.

JOHN ON REPRESENTATIVES.

On motion of Mr. Gwin, the committee of the House on elections on demand from New Mexico and Desert, was made at half-past 12 o'clock for the 22nd instant.

It was moved, and carried, that he would to-morrow offer a resolution for closing the California debate.

No further attempts to suspend the rules to introduce various resolutions, the House went into committee of the whole.

Mrs. Clarke and Savage spoke on the California question.

Mr. Macaulay next obtained the floor. The House then adjourned.

Telegraphed for the Richmond Enquirer.
